

Lund University Commissioned course: Von willebrand disease - From theory to clinical practice

10-12 OCTOBER, 2023, MALMÖ, SWEDEN

Using an evidence-based approach, this 3-day commissioned course will begin with an introduction of VWD through a series of overview lectures. Thereafter, clinical cases will be presented and the management, prognosis, treatment and diagnosis of the disease will be discussed.

Supported by Lund University Commissioned Education, this course is lead by the Department of Translational Medicine, Clinical Coagulation Research Unit at Lund University and sponsored by Octapharma.

LIPUS (Institute for the Professional Development of Physicians in Sweden) will review the course (www.lipus.se).
CME (Continuing Medical Education) application pending.

TARGET GROUP:

- Specialists in internal medicine/ hematology or pediatrics in need of further training in VWD.
- Good English-speaking skills are required.

APPLY HERE

Deadline for for applications: 3 September 2023.

CONTACT

Victoria Rydengård
Business Developer
victoria.rydengard@education.lu.se
Lund University
Commissioned Education