

BROWN UNIVERSITY

Attending Physician Pediatric Hemoglobinopathies

Brown University: Pediatrics

Location

Providence, RI

Description

The Department of Pediatrics, Rhode Island Hospital (RIH)/Hasbro Children's Hospital (HCH) and Alpert Medical School of Brown University are excited to announce the following Pediatric Hematology/Oncology faculty positions:

Attending Physician, Hematology (Director of Comprehensive Hemoglobinopathy Program)

Fellowship Program Director (>5 years of faculty experience required)

Responsibilities include hematology/oncology patient care, teaching and mentorship of medical students, residents and pediatric hematology/oncology fellows. All faculty will be expected to pursue scholarly activities in clinical or laboratory research or education, with the support of the HCH mentoring program, and senior faculty will be expected to continue these activities.

HCH is the only pediatric tertiary care center in RI and serves as the primary pediatric teaching facility for the Medical School. Clinically, multidisciplinary comprehensive programs include hemophilia and bleeding disorders, hemoglobinopathies, hematologic malignancies, solid and CNS tumors as well as childhood cancer survivorship.

HCH is an active member of the Children's Oncology Group and the Dana Farber Cancer Institute ALL Consortium. The Division has an excellent ACGME-accredited pediatric hematology/oncology fellowship program accepting one new fellow each year for three-year fellowships.

The candidate would join a fully staffed and growing multidisciplinary team that includes 8 physicians, 5 NPs/PA and a dedicated support staff that ensures high quality, expert care for our patients. Clinical, correlative and translational laboratory research efforts will be supported. The position will be afforded a minimum of 20% protected time for research or education as appropriate to the successful applicant's interests and experience.

Application Instructions

Please submit a CV and cover letter to rishi_lulla@brown.edu and candidates will then be directed to apply online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/49109>. Please upload the following: CV, Cover Letter and the names of three references. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Brown University and its affiliated teaching hospitals are equal opportunity (EEO/AA) employers and are committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. The hospital and the university welcome nominations and applications from minorities, women, and individuals with varied experiences, perspectives and backgrounds, which would enrich the university's research, teaching and service missions.

Qualifications

Candidates must qualify for appointment to the rank of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Full Professor at the Alpert Medical School of Brown University. Minimum requirements include board eligibility or certification in Pediatric Hematology/ Oncology, a strong clinical background in pediatrics and pediatric hematology/oncology, and excellence in patient care, research and/or teaching. For faculty seeking appointment at the rank of Associate or Full Professor, evidence of significant clinical experience and/or a high-quality research program and a national reputation are required.
