Institution:  Children’s Hospital of Colorado and University of Colorado

Job Title:  Clinical Manager – Hemophilia and Thrombosis Center

Position Description:

The Clinical Manager is responsible for directing and managing the daily operations of a direct patient care department to ensure policies, procedures, and guidelines are being followed; providing clinical expertise, leading department team members in providing developmentally appropriate care and evaluating outcomes; and ensuring compliance with quality and safety initiatives and practices. The Clinical Manager ensures the accomplishment of organizational goals and objectives to improve healthcare performance and patient experience of care in a cost-effective manner. The Clinical Manager is a partner with others in the healthcare leadership team to enhance clinical practice by coaching for performance and promotion of professional growth. Finally, the Clinical Manager provides leadership in managing department team members and patient/family experiences.

The Hemophilia and Thrombosis Center (HTC) is a joint venture between Children’s Hospital of Colorado and the University of Colorado. The HTC provides comprehensive care across the lifespan to individuals with rare bleeding disorders under the guidelines of a federal grant. The pediatric Stroke Program is also part of the HTC. The Clinical Manager oversees all aspects of the clinic operation from day to day activities, quality initiatives, customer service and staffing needs. Children’s HTC clinical personnel report directly to the Clinical Manager and the position provides leadership and oversight to clinical positions hired by the University of Colorado Denver. The Clinical Manager has an integral role alongside the HTC Leadership Team to develop and put into action innovative care models and new service lines.
